

Public Safety

Maryland's proactive approach to stopping crime and creating safer communities is backed by record public safety funding in 2009.